Goal

Obtain the highest score in this piecepack adaptation of the well known dice game.

Preparation

- Take any five piecepack dice, the rest of the sets will not be used.
- Take a pen to note down the scores.
- Print out the scoresheet included at the end of this file.
- Determine a starting player by the preferred means of the group.

Gameplay

- Each turn consists of a maximum of three rolls.
- Players only look at the numbers, suits do not matter.
- Ace =1, null =6.
- The first roll must be with all five dice.
- If the player chooses to roll a second and third time, he may pick up and roll any number of dice he wants.
- After the player is done rolling, scores have to be noted down, even if they are lousy.
- Fill in the result of your turn where best suited. If scoring is impossible or unwanted, cross out a score by choice. The crossed out score can not be used in this game again and therefore will not generate any points.
- When no more scores can be filled in (or crossed out) for any of the players, the game has ended.
- If players have scored at least 63 points in the upper section of the scoresheet, they receive a 35 point bonus.
- Players now add up all their scores.

Game End

The player with the highest score is the winner.
